Membership Information Pack

About eafes

The European Agency for Energy Security (EAFES) is a non-governmental organisation connecting experts from various professional areas who have a common interest in the secure and environmentally friendly supply of energy. These issues are not confined to policy alone as the same importance must be given to economic and scientific factors.

The key objectives are to understand the political relations between countries rich in energy resources and the consumer countries; trade relations, their infrastructure and other economic and technical aspects; and finally to explore the scientific possibilities of developing new energy resources or improving the performance of existing ones. Understanding all these complex issues requires strong collaboration between experts in all the relevant areas and this is what EAFES strives to achieve.

As the main objective, to assist the energy community in developing secure and environmentally friendly energy supply, is achievable only by strong political will and constant scientific development, the core of the agency consists of experts from various areas with different focuses in order to bring these strands together. The main activities of the agency are therefore: improving communication between experts of different disciplines related to energy; conducting independent research; organising meetings, conferences and workshops and promoting informed debate on energy research, industry and policy.

Choose your annual membership

The European Agency for Energy Security creates a framework of people dealing with, and interested in, energy security. Members of the EAFES framework have a unique opportunity to participate in EAFES events, contribute to the EAFES blog area and participate in expert debates dealing with current dilemmas in energy and energy security.

We request that anyone who is interested in membership should complete the application form attached and send it to info@eafes.eu

- Full annual membership is 15 € per year
- Student annual membership is 10 € per year
- Organisations and post-graduate educational groups may apply for membership – the fee is dependent on group size and organisation type

Conditions and eligibility for membership will be discussed by the EAFES Executive Board for each applicant.

With every membership

With each EAFES membership, EAFES provides a range of benefits that are available exclusively through the EAFES framework. The benefits include, but are not limited to the following, about which you can find more information below:

- Exclusive access to our online member area
- EAFES energy bulletin (full version) direct to your mailbox four times per year
- Pre-publicity notification for all EAFES events
- 15% discount on all EAFES events *
- Access to online energy networks provided by EAFES and selected media partners

Exclusive access to our online member area

Our online member area is password protected and can only be accessed by EAFES members, sponsors and supporters. It provides full versions of some of our summary papers published on www.eafes.eu and written by leading researchers and professionals in the energy field.

EAFES energy bulletin \(full version\)

As a member of the EAFES Framework, you'll receive four editions of our energy bulletin per year as an exclusive benefit. The summary bulletins are available to all via www.eafes.eu and members will receive the full version of the energy bulletin direct to their mailbox four times per year.

Pre-publicity notification on all EAFES events

Each time we promote an EAFES event, for which places are all allocated either on merit or on a first come first served basis, we will notify our members one week in advance of publicising to the general energy community. This way, members have an enhanced opportunity to participate in all of our events.

15% discount on all EAFES events

All members will receive a 15% discount on all EAFES event fees *subject to membership having been taken at least six months prior to the launch of the event publicity.

Access to online energy networks

The EAFES blog is available to leading academics, professionals and members of the EAFES framework are encouraged to participate. The purpose of the blog is to generate informed discussion about European energy security issues. EAFES also has media partners for access to a wider audience and members can also benefit from greater exposure of their work and their views, through these links and partnerships.

Additional information

Joining from outside Europe

While we focus on 'European' energy security, we recognise that global cooperation is required in order to achieve energy security and we therefore welcome members from across the globe and strive to develop reciprocal visits and educational or professional exchanges with many other organisations in Europe and beyond.

Educational groups

So that educational groups can participate in our debate as a collective, we offer a special membership for post-graduate educational groups and societies.

Corporate support and sponsorship opportunities

Your business or organisation can contribute to the debate on European Energy Security by becoming a corporate supporter or by sponsoring an EAFES event or workshop. Sponsorship opportunities are also available on our website.
